NOTES OF THE DAY.

It is said that white people are not the only persons who are guilty of wanton slaughter of game in the West. Nearly 300 buffaloes were recently slain in one day in Dakota, by Sioux Indians.

GEN. GRANT has written a letter to Fitz John Porter, reiterating his assertions of Porter's innocence, and expressing the hope that he will soon be restored to the army. Isn't it about time that a long-suffering people be allowed to forget Fitz John Porter?

A woman named Mary Pullen was convicted the other day in a London police court for the eighteenth time of drunkenness and assault. Her name suggests a pun which it is (scarcely) to be hoped American paragoners will deny themselves the pleasure of perpetrating.

A wise man down in Pennsylvania had no faith in banks, and at the same time stood in mortal terror of burglars. He had $10,000 on hand the other day, and rather than deposit it in a "peaky bank," put it in a stove oven. He forgot to tell his wife. She built a rousing fire to prepare the noon-day meal, and—the man's ruined.

BUTLER'S persistency is unequalled. A few months ago he appointed a colored man as judge of the Charlestown district court. When the matter came before the council that august body refused to confirm the nomination. The "wily widow" is determined, however, and has nominated another colored man for the same position.

THE other day in Nottingham, England, a well-known female thief succeeded in stealing a trunk from a railway station. When, however, she opened it and found it to be filled with the body of a child in spirits, a human leg and other portions of the human anatomy, her emotions were so mixed that she surrendered herself to the police.

THE indignation of Southern people has been aroused by the persistence and audacity of the hands of Mormon missionaries invading that section. Public sentiment favors absolute prohibition of proselyting by the pestiferous polygamists. Some of the State Legislatures, it is expected, will take up the question this winter and see whether such legislation can be enacted as will drive out the Mormon elders and keep them out.

A man named Harry Livingston, who for 18 years has been one of the most successful counterfeiters in the country, became conscience-stricken and surrendered himself to the authorities at St. Joseph, Mo., the other day. He says that he is anxious to leave the business, but that the organization of the counterfeiters is so strong, that unconditional surrender is his only hope. Thus far he refuses to make known his partners in crime.

WILLIAM PORTER, who was born on the English man-of-war Saturn on August 12, 1783, who joined the navy as a youth and stood close to Nelson when he received his mortal wound in the battle of Trafalgar, has just died at Wolverhampton, where he had earned a livelihood for more than sixty years. The Globe adds that he died in the workhouse, a touching illustration of how "England delights in honoring her heroes, especially her naval heroes, being mistress of the sea."

In 1865, Joseph H. Bradley, one of the oldest attorneys in Washington, defended May Harris, who was on trial in that city for the murder of one, Burroughs, a treasury department clerk. Miss Harris was acquitted on the ground of insanity, and was subsequently sent to an insane asylum, from which she was soon discharged cured. Now the announcement is made that Bradley and Miss Harris were married in Washington the other day, proving conclusively that there is insanity somewhere in the crowd, and it looks very much as though the old man ought to be shut up. Any way, this circumstance is proof positive, that "there is no fool like an old fool."

UNDER the guise of reform, Gen. Butler has been busy all summer investigating alleged wrongs in the management of the Tewksbury almshouse. Among all other outrages which Butler said existed, that of the tanning of human hides seemed most barbarous. Butler gave up the investigating business when campaign duties became pressing. It looks now as though the common wealth of the old Bay State had pretty thoroughly tanned the private cuticle of a man about Butler's size. Viewed in the light of the white heat of the ballot box, Butler must begin to realize that there comes a time when a long-suffering people will rebel against even so august a person as Benjamin F. Butler. It is hardly possible that Butler will soon recover from this tanning, although it is well known that his hide is tough, and his recuperating powers something wonderful.

Choose for your friend him that is wise and good, and secret and just, ingenious and honest, and in those things which have a latitude, use your own liberty.—Jeremy Taylor.

MICHIGAN.

The M. E. church at Manistee wants a pastor.

Grand Rapids pays 52½ per cent of Kent county's taxes.

Defective gas mains are killing off the beautiful shade trees of Hillsdale.

The salt product of Michigan for the month of October was 348,222 barrels.

John Fonda, a Battle Creek man, has just secured a patent on a new railroad switch chair.

Many fruit trees have been planted this fall in the Upper Peninsula along the line of the Detroit, Marquette & Marquette Railroad.

William Diggs, an unruly pupil at the reform school, Lansing, is under arrest charged with an assault with intent to kill a teacher.

William Bashan, aged 22, who was employed in the Evening News office in East Saginaw, was found dead in his bed the other morning.

Detroit merchants have reaped such a harvest of duncans, as a result of the art loam in that city, that they want to have it continued into December.

The O'Neil Brothers, at Charlevoix, made a haul of over 8,000 pounds of lake trout in one day recently. The average weight was 10 pounds each.

Schuyler F. Seager died of typhoid fever, at his home in Lansing, on the 7th inst. Mr. Seager was one of the most prominent lawyers in the state.

Fifty Battle Creek advertisers will emigrate to California, Dec. 10, most of whom will work in a branch of the Review and Herald printing office there.

Near Ida, Monroe county, Mrs. Nichols, the wife of a rich farmer, died from the effects of a dose of poison taken with suicidal intent on the 7th inst.

Lew Hoffman, one of the best corn players in the county has been sent from Adrian to the house of correction for 90 days. Lew took too much poor whiskey.

A man named Ferguson is under arrest at Kalamazoo, charged with responsibility for the sudden and violent death of Barney Cunningham at Schoolcraft on the 7th inst.

At Muskegon, Peter Stogren recovered $20,000 damages from the owners of the Hall & Davis saw-mill for the crushing and subsequently cutting off of his leg while in their employ.

John McCurdy, a young man well known in Shiawassee county, who was recently arrested on a criminal charge preferred by or on behalf of a young woman, has been discharged.

A prominent lumberman and an old resident of Manistee named Paul Canin shot himself through the heart the other morning at his home. No reason for the rash deed is assigned.

A panic was caused in an East Saginaw church the other day by the settling of the floor. No one was seriously hurt, but the worshippers vacated with a degree of alacrity truly surprising.

Mrs. Abigail Matthews, of Allegan, who was sentenced to the house of correction for 90 days for assault and battery upon a justice of the peace, has been adjudged insane and sent to an asylum.

Chas. Downer, of Port Huron, who had a leg broken while loading sail upon the schooner Dunford at Oscoda, was taken to Port Huron and died as the surgeons were amputating his crushed leg.

The laying of rails on the Detroit, Bay City and Alpena road is completed to the Kelle river, thus connecting East Tawas with Wells station, in the northwestern corner of Arenac county, on the Michigan Central.

Miss Ida Walton, daughter of Hiram Walton, a prominent and wealthy farmer who lives about three miles north of Pontiac, died suddenly a few days ago. She was about 29 years old, and was well known and much esteemed.

No new assignments have been made in Grand Rapids, and the feeling among lumbermen and tankers is easier and more cheerful. It is thought the storm is past, and that no other companies will be involved by the recent failures.

A woman 63 years of age, in Kalamazoo, who was in her house with two children and her clothing on fire and out of doors. Neighbors saw her all aflame and ran to her rescue, but she was burned so badly that she died.

A little child of a Marshall barber set his clothes on fire accidentally, and but for the timely assistance of his father would have been burned to death. He wore the blazing clothes from her body, though both were badly burned in the operation.

A Grand Trunk brakeman named Miller was injured near Flint the other evening, so seriously that he is likely to die, by being knocked from a car; and earlier in the day a Grand Rapids and Indiana brakeman named John Tillison was instantly killed while coupling cars at Big Rapids.

Rev. L. G. Bettes is doing missionary work in San Jose, and says he is building two churches. The sailors who proposed to go with him around the world, on his small boat voyage, want him to wait until spring for the start, so they can have more time along the Gulf of Mexico.

A 2-year-old son of Polish parents, at Girard, Branch county, was burned to death the other day. They had left the child in the house while they were sawing wood in the woods, and on returning found the child's body hanging from a charred mass. How the clothing had caught fire is unknown.

The report of the assistant adjutant-general of the grand army of the republic in this state for the quarter ending September 30, shows at this date a membership of 8,849, and 187 posts in this state. There was a gain of 34 new posts and a net gain of 1,373 members during that quarter. There are now 197 posts, 10 having been mustered since September 30.

Charles Clark of Rives Junction, Jackson county, was sent to the Iowa house of correction for six months for beating his wife. On his arrival there, being asked why he whipped his wife, he answered: "Do you suppose I've lived to the age of 80 years and don't know when my wife needs a thrashing? I'm mighty glad of the opportunity of a six months' rest."

During the season reckoning from January 1, 1883, to Oct. 30, 1883, the Flint & Pere Marquette railroad company hauled 127,015,511 feet of pine logs, and before the year closes will probably make its total haulage 150,000,000. Last year that road, the Michigan Central, Saginaw Bay & Northwestern and the Tawas & Bay County roads, hauling 179,826,953 feet.

A Good Report.

During the severe gale which lasted the whole of the last week in October, over 70 crafts found shelter inside the piers of the harbor of refuge at Sand Beach. Tonnage considered, this is the largest fleet ever sheltered there in the harbor's history, and comprised a little less than 25,000 tons. The steam craft numbered 24, and ranged in size from 25 to 1,152 tons. The tow barges ranged from 160 to 1,116 tons. There were 9 schooners inside and the tonnage in their class was from 200 to 860 tons. Small schooners and scows were not counted in making this total. This fleet was manned by between 1,300 sailors, and was ranged along the piers three deep.

"Hold Up" at Holly.

As Postmaster David Hobart, of Holly, was proceeding homeward from the postoffice the other evening, accompanied by his wife and her sister, he was set upon by three ruffians, who seized the tin box he carried, containing about $400 in postage stamps and $50 in cash. A spirited struggle ensued, in which Mr. Hobart regained possession of the box, and the robbers terminated the struggle by one of their number placing a pistol close to Hobart's head and firing, the bullet inflicting a trivial wound. Hobart relinquished his hold on the box, and the attacking party grabbed it and made off. The affair happened opposite Wilhelm's lumber yard and about 30 rods from the postoffice. The affair was the most desperate robbery ever perpetrated there, and there is much excitement about it.

DETROIT MARKETS.

Detroit, Nov. 12, 1883.
